1. Whole of society approach: better coordination and collaboration
2. Community at centre: putting communities at the center of the action
3. Onehealth: consider the whole public health system, not just humanitarian interventions

The health services are out front, the supply chain is hidden behind.

Panel 1: Public Health Emergencies

“Universal health coverage and health emergencies are cousins—two sides of the same coin. Strengthening health systems is the best way to safeguard against health crises. Outbreaks are inevitable, but epidemics are not. Strong health systems are our best defense to prevent disease outbreaks from becoming epidemics.”

- Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus

Actions for prevention:

- Good surveillance
- Community-based alert systems & interventions
- Public institutions
- Keep training health workers,
- Need for a holistic approach
